While Fresh Recruits Are Coming Older Men Leave.

"There is a grave mistake among the people here in permitting so many Portuguese to leave the islands," said F. J. Dutra Saturday. "Over a hundred Portuguese left on the Korea and paring to go. They are going to California and from there they write to mama and papa here: 'We are getting $2.50 a day; you had better come over to us.' And they're going.

"Here is a shipload of Portuguese coming from the Azores, but in the meantime all the older people who have lived here twenty years are leaving the country. There is something wrong about this. These people are thrifty and hardworking. They save to buy homes, not to send money away to the Azores. The Japs and Chinese send thousands. The Portuguese invest it right here that their children may have homes after them.

"It is a shame that the old Portuguese men who came here twenty or more years ago cannot get government work. Because they have not learned to speak English they are not supposed to be citizens and cannot get it. Yet they are rooted to the soil and home builders and will never return to the Azores whence they came. The Japs and Chinese are forever leaving for the

"In California these people are regarded as the best of citizens. They plant their vineyards and, make the desert bloom. They are getting wealthy up there and it's no wonder they are leaving Hawali so rapidly."

Judge Archie Mahaulu, District Magstrate for Waialua, and a Republican follower of Kuhio, attempted to draw Sam Kaloa, a Democrat, into a fight at Waialua on Saturday night during an argument on the political situation. The two men came together at Haleiwa. Archie accused Sam of something or other political. Kaloa refused to get into an argument. Finally words became bitter and Archie challenged Kaloa to fight. Archie threw off his coat and Sam did likewise. Mr. Bidgood endeavored to restrain the men, but it was not until Frank Harvey broke into the game and parted them that the fight was declared off.

Harry Murray, of the Republican committee, stated Saturday night that the fight was due to Archie charging Sam with getting $2.50 a day from the Democrats to lie about Kuhio on the stump. He said that Sam admitted this BY WHITE LADY As nurse for chil-
